MORNING

Eight horizontal yellow bars for writing, stacked vertically, separated by teal background sections.

DAYTIME

A series of ten horizontal yellow bars, each spanning the width of the page, intended for writing. The bars are separated by thin teal lines, matching the background color.

AFTERNOON

A series of ten horizontal yellow bars, each serving as a line for writing. The bars are evenly spaced and span most of the width of the page, leaving a small margin on the left and right sides.
